Kannapolis Parks & Recreation Department

Kannapolis, N.C., March 1, 2010—In response to high demand at Village Park, the City of Kannapolis has changed its park shelter reservation regulations and has developed several party packages for families celebrating a child’s birthday.

Previously, Shelter C was available in only half-day increments of five and a half hours. With the change, it can be reserved in two-hour increments for $15.00. Additionally, those that are interested can purchase party supplies, goodie bags, train whistles and hats, and balloons.

“This change will help better serve our residents,” said Kannapolis Parks & Recreation Director Gary Mills. “We have made great strides at Village Park over the last several years with the addition of new playground equipment, the Rotary Express and the Splash Pad. These packages will help make birthday party planning easy and economical for local families.”
